DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 49 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Chellali et al U.S. Patent Number 6,201,830.

Re Claim 49, fig. 6 teaches a DSL communication system Phase Analysis that detects whether there is IDLE data (no data traffic) over the DSL channel; wherein if there is an IDLE data indication, the IDLE data is IGNORED (omitting a plurality of processing) for the duration of the IDLE period (See col. 6, lines 28-52).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-3, 5-11, 13-19, and 21-48 are allowed.
4. Claims 50-51 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

In combination with claims 49 and 50, prior art fails to the resuming the omitted periods after the expiration of the a second period of time triggering an end of the idle period.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 8/31/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Re Claim 49, Applicant argues that '830 patent fails to teach, "a controller to perform a plurality of operations for processing valid data or nonvalid data and to ome some of the operations if non-valid data is received for a first period of tome indicating an idle period."

Examiner disagrees.

The transmitter indicates the valid/idle status of the next frame. It is this indication that enables the omission of a plurality of processing at the receiver. A frame is associated with a time period (a first period of time indicating an idle period) for transmitting data traffic or no data traffic (idle data). Hence, when the transmitter indicates that the next frame contains idle state, the receiver omits some processing for the duration of the frame.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
